Substances Bureau, Environmental Protection

Administration, Executive Yuan, in July 2021

1. Upon promulgation of the “Regulations on the Management of Emergency Responders to Toxic and Concerned Chemical Substance Incidents” on July 1, 2021, four training centers have been established in northern, central and southern Taiwan to hold level-five courses on a regular basis. An emergency response training and registration website was also established. The training system enables operators to enhance their emergency response procedures while ensuring safety and efficiency; and reduce the impacts and influence of accidents on the environment and human health.
2. On July 21 a video conference was held to discuss for the first time amendments to “Regulations for New and Existing Chemical Substances Registration”. Apart from adopting Cisco Webex Meetings and Youtube live streaming websites for the conference, “Google Sheets” was also used to gather opinions from participants on the said amendments. About 800 people joined the video conference.
